A prominent prohibitionist attributes the victory at the polls on Thursday to be the result of the growing temperance element, and also thinks the recent speeches of Ex-Governor St. John had considerable bearing on the election, while Mrs. Lucy Simpson, the colored temperance orator, influenced members of that race to put down the liquor traffic in this city in the words of Bro. Smith, of the Sentinel, it was a "combination of circumstances."

A great deal of dissatisfaction exists among the license men, over the result of the election in the Third ward, and it was the topic of a great deal of talk on the street yesterday. THE SPIRIT ENDED.

The Miners Held a Meeting and Decided to Resume Work.

For several days past it has been apparent to the coal miners who struck on the 4th inst., that it would be useless for them to hold out in their undertaking any longer. The coal trade has been light ever since the inauguration of the strike, and the coming warm weather would only serve to lighten it still more. The operators have placed a number of Polesanders in the mine, and, while they are inexperienced, they serve at this season of the year to mine sufficient coal to at least enable the operators to fill a good portion. When the miners struck they did it quietly and without threats, and with the determination to maintain peace throughout their undertaking, even though they failed in it. As is customary, when a strike is ordered, they warned miners from neighboring mines of the state of affairs, and requested them to remain away until the matter was adjusted. The operators refused to compromise or arbitrate the matter, and the miners saw that they could not hold out against them with the Polesanders working in the mine. They concluded that it would be best for them to resume work at 70 cents per ton, and accordingly a meeting was held yesterday morning, at No. 2 Hose house, James Russell president, and John Feller secretary.

The situation was freely discussed, and it was decided to take a vote on the advisability of resuming work at 70 cents per ton. The vote was taken and stood 41 to 14 in favor of abandoning the strike.

The following committee was then appointed to wait on Superintendent White, and inform him of the decision: Messrs. Thomas Gilmore, James Lyons, Joseph Condon, John Owens and George Morgan.

Upon their calling upon Superintendent White, he stated he would give all the men work with the exception of ten or twelve, but he then conferred with Mr. Wallace, and upon returning to the committee told them that his first statement was made while he was a little riled, and that all the men would be given work in due time. At present, he said, there was not room in the mine for all the men, but that those who could not be given employment there, would be put to work at the new escapement shaft.

Before the miners meeting adjourned, they tendered a vote of thanks to the K. of L. and the Cigar-makers' and Printers' Unions, for sympathy and protection extended them during their strike.

The price of 80 cents per ton for mining coal, will be resumed as soon as the full trade sets in.

The wedding supper was bountiful in every respect, and was partaken of with contented joy.

The groom is a worthy and industrious young man, and is held in high esteem by his many friends and acquaintances, while the lady of his choice is amiable and will share all of his joy and cares with womanly love and gentleness.

A Close Call.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Corneau and little daughter had a narrow escape from death Monday night by asphyxia from the effect of which they have not yet recovered. On retiring for the night, Monday, some member filled the hard coal base-burner, and failed to close the top, and ere morning dawned Mr. and Mrs. Corneau's room was filled with the suffocating smoke, of which they must have inhaled a great quantity. On Tuesday morning, Mrs. Corneau's mother was the first to arise, and upon discovering the state of affairs, called to Charlie, who, although nearly insensible, arose and opened a door and window. He had scarcely accomplished this when he fell back on the bed unconscious. About this time the little daughter commenced screaming of the terrible pain in her head, which in a degree aroused Mrs. Corneau from her insensibility. Her mother thoroughly alarmed dispatched a messenger for Dr. Chenoweth, and at the same time made preparations to revive the family. The doctor arrived in due time, but it was only by several hours skillful work that he saved the three lives. Mr. and Mrs. Corneau and daughter were resting comfortably yesterday, but the effects of their awful experience was plainly visible in their faces.
